Looking for new appliances or electronics for your home?

Choose an ENERGY STAR certified product.

Why choose ENERGY STAR?

- Quality: ENERGY STAR certified products are independently certified to meet strict U.S. EPA energy efficiency requirements without sacrificing performance or design.
- Energy savings: ENERGY STAR certified products have a cost-to-run tag, so you'll know your potential savings upfront. Your energy costs can be up to 15 percent less than other models.
- Earth-friendly: When you use ENERGY STAR certified products, you're helping reduce greenhouse gas emissions that contribute to climate change.

You'll find the ENERGY STAR label on over 50 kinds of products, such as heating and cooling equipment, refrigerators, televisions, windows and more.
