

Enhancing Comfort and Efficiency

Travis Drury, an environmental analyst in Greenfield, faced heating and cooling challenges in his century-old, 1,480-square-foot home. His aging oil furnace struggled to provide adequate winter heating, while his only summer cooling source was a small window unit. In pursuit of cost savings and a reduced carbon footprint, Travis turned to Eversource, a Mass Save® Sponsor. Following a Home Energy Assessment, weatherization upgrades were made, a heat pump for both heating and cooling was installed, and the water heater was upgraded to an efficient heat pump water heater. The new heat pump allowed for air conditioning in the upstairs bedroom, delivering year-round comfort to Travis and his family.

"We've been so happy with the Eversource heat pump program that I've become an evangelist about it. I've recommended it to neighbors, friends, family, and coworkers. In fact, some coworkers have already installed heat pumps after talking to me. Among my social group, I've become 'the heat pump expert.'"
